

Based out of Calgary, Alberta, Void Souls is a five-piece rock band ready to captivate listeners with their fierce, hard-hitting instrumentals and dynamic, energetic vocals. Formed in 2023 by lead vocalist Josh Evans, the band's unique sound blends powerful rock elements with a raw, emotional intensity that leaves a lasting impression. Whether you're drawn to the killer riffs, the deep rumbling basslines, or the electrifying rhythms, Void Souls' music grabs hold of you from the first note and doesn't let go.

The lineup includes Nathan Febel on bass, Dan Matsuda on guitar, Kyle Johnson on guitar, and Jordan King on drums. Each member brings their own unique style and flavor to the band, creating a collective energy that is both infectious and unpredictable. Together, they've crafted a sound that reflects their passion for music and their desire to break boundaries, blending elements of hard rock, alternative, and even a touch of grunge into something all their own.

Void Souls is gearing up to take Western Canada by storm with an exciting slate of live performances and events. This year also marks a major milestone as the band finishes their recording of their much-anticipated EP, which is sure to showcase an even broader range of their musical versatility and emotional depth. Fans are eagerly awaiting what's next as the band continues to evolve, build their fanbase, and push their creative limits.

The band's single Into The Darkness, marks a major milestone in their journey and has already made a big splash on the airwaves. Into The Darkness has been picked up by major Canadian radio stations, including 94.9 The Rock in Toronto, CJAY 92 in Calgary, X92.9 in Calgary, and 100.3 The Bear in Edmonton, among others. This national airplay has opened the door for new fans across the country, and the band is eager to meet them head-on with their electrifying live performances.

As they prepare for an exciting year of touring and recording, Void Souls is undeniably a band to watch in 2025 and beyond. With their unrelenting passion, raw talent, and unwavering dedication to their craft, they're sure to make waves in the rock music scene. Stay tuned for upcoming shows in Western Canada, and don't miss the chance to experience the energy and intensity that is Void Souls.